MASKED GUNMEN ROB MESSENGER OF MAIL POUCH CONTAINING $40,000 FOR CONSHOHOCKEN FACTORY PAYROLL

Another Pouch With Parcel-Post Packages Was Also Taken—Automobile Used for Escape Found Later and Contained Rifled Pouch.

CONSHOHOCKEN, June 1.—Working with speed and precision, five masked gunmen early today held up a post-office mail messenger at the Reading Railroad station here and escaped with a registered pouch of mail believed to have contained more than $40,000 in money sent here every Friday morning. It was addressed to the Conshohocken Manufacturing Concerns and was to have been used to meet payrolls. A second mail pouch containing parcel-post packages was also taken by the highwaymen. It was thrown from the bandits' car a short distance from the scene of the daring daylight crime, practically empty.

The gunmen, all dressed as laborers, were masked with black stockings and parts of window curtains. Each carried guns. Police authorities believe they were well informed as to the value of the Friday registered mail delivery, as well as to the fact that Chief of Police Frederick Blake was off duty today.

Fearing just such a crime, although today's was the first in the history of Conshohocken, Blake has been accompanying J. Roy Stewart, 28, the mail messenger, to the station on Friday mornings. Although police protection was not a regulation of the department, Blake had been giving Stewart protection.

Stewart was placing the two mail pouches aboard his mail truck at the station when the gang of five surrounded him. With threats of death if he failed to obey orders instantly the desperadoes ordered him into the back of his truck.

While the hold-up was taking place, William Vining, 40, of W. Conshohocken, a taxicab driver, pulled into the station. He was ordered into the back of the mail truck too. Just as the bandits were ready to drive off, Joseph Carney, brother-in-law of assistant postmaster W. Forrest Scanlin, walked onto the station platform. Carney attempted to pull the mask from off the face of one of the gunmen. He was thrown against the back of the truck. With final warnings that any outcry would mean death the five gunmen jumped into the car and sped off in the direction of Norristown. Police were unable to immediately pick up the trail.

NORRISTOWN, June 1.—Hot on the trail of the five gunmen who executed a $40,000 mail robbery at Conshohocken this morning, police here today found the automobile used by the bandits in their audacious hold-up.

The abandoned car, a stolen sedan, was discovered by Policeman Harry Fell. The machine was parked at the curb on Penn street, directly across the street from the Court House annex where the office of District Attorney Stewart Nase is located. The motor was still running. The mail sack, stolen by the bandits was in the automobile. The payroll money had been hastily removed and letters from the bag were scattered over the seat.

MORRISVILLE HIGH LOSES GAMES DUE TO PROTEST

Mattis, Second Sacker, Proves To Be Over-Age By Birth Certificate

BRISTOL GETS 1ST PLACE

The Morrisville High School baseball team is out of the Lower Bucks County League race after virtually clinching the championship. All games the team won have been forfeited due to a protest made by Bristol high school.

Morrisville had won every game except one. By forfeiting the seven games won, Bristol goes into first place in the league.

Action was taken a few nights ago at Langhorne where a meeting of the coaches and principals was held and Coach William Dougherty, of the Bristol High School, presented a birth certificate showing "Johnny" Mattis, star second sacker for the Bulldogs, was 20 years old last November. The P. I. A. rules, to which all high schools in the county belong, prohibit a boy from competing in high school games after he becomes 20 years of age. Dougherty produced Mattis' birth certificate which was procured from the Bureau of Vital Statistics of New Jersey. Mattis was born in Trenton.

The Morrisville school authorities explained that the school records show that Mattis was only 19 years old and that a baptismal certificate, which was a part of the school records, also shows that Mattis was born November 29, 1914. The birth certificate, however, shows that the athlete was born in 1913.

Discussion Conducted On The Wagner Labor Bill and Farm Labor

LANGHORNE, June 1.—Middletown Grange has named three delegates to the Spring meeting of Lower Bucks and Philadelphia Pomona Grange, No. 22, which will be held in Tyro Hall Grange hall, Buckingham, Wednesday evening.

The delegates, who were named at a meeting of the Middletown Grange at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Terry, are: Mrs. Aaron Tomlinson, Mrs. William P. Newbold, and Mrs. Emma Bilger. At the session the Chester-Delaware Pomona Grange will present the traveling gavel to the Lower Bucks Pomona.

During the business session a letter from State Master J. A. Boak was read. This urged that all subordinate Granges throughout the State launch membership drives during the coming month.

The only discussion of the evening was on the Wagner Labor Bill and farm labor. This was opened by Mrs. Aaron Tomlinson, who read an article and during the discussion which followed it was brought out that in addition to the salary paid farm hands, they receive a great many other considerations. Among them are free rent, vegetables and milk and frequently the family employing the help provides the board and does the washing and mending free of charge.

Several poems appropriate to Memorial Day were given and the members responded to roll call by telling what they would do if they became lost in the woods.

During the social hour which followed the program refreshments were served. Announcement was made of the next meeting which will take place in the Friends' school house at this place on Wednesday evening, June 13.

ROLLING COUNTRY OF W. MARYLAND ATTRACTS

Fine, Hard-Surfaced Route Leads to Recreation and Pleasure

HISTORIC SECTION

Through the rolling peaceful countryside of western Maryland almost parallel with the Mason and Dixon line, runs the National Old Trail Highway, one of the best hard surfaced motor trunk highways in the country. Over this excellent highway the Keystone Automobile Club has outlined an attractive tour for the benefit of motorists seeking pleasure and recreation.

"From Hagerstown to Keyzers Ridge the National Old Trails Highway passes through some of the most scenic regions of Maryland," says Edward B. Watson, manager of the Bucks County Division of the Club. "Through countryside set amid historic background, the old roadway that once served as a pioneer trail, leads to the delightful resort sections of Deer Park and Mountain Lake Park, nestled in the hills of the lower Alleghenies."

From Bristol the tour leads west over national route 122 passing through Montgomeryville, Center Square, Norristown and Bridgeport to Paoli on the Lincoln Highway. This road, marked as U. S. Route 30, passes through Paoli to Lancaster, York and Gettysburg to Chambersburg. Here a left turn into U. S. Route 11 carries the tourists south through Greencastle to Hagerstown.

Hagerstown is rightfully named the "Hub of the Cumberland Valley," and from here numerous delightful side trips can be made into historic territory. Eastward lies a beautiful mountain section. Southward is the historic Antietam Battlefield, now a national park. Beyond this can be reached the famous cavern sections of the Shenandoah Valley. Westward from Hagerstown, the travelers follow the National Old Trails Highway, marked U. S. Route 40, passing through Shady Bow and Clear Springs to Indian Springs.

From here a left turn into the state highway leads south two miles to the ruins of old Fort Frederick, overlooking the blue Potomac. This stronghold, built in 1756 as a guard against Indians, is now a state park and the ground between the riverfront and the old fort is laid out in public camp sites. Returning to the main highway the tourists pass through one of the most picturesque scenic regions of Maryland, the Potomac and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal crowd each other as they wind through the "Narrows" enroute to Cumberland.

Here is a prosperous city grown up around the site of historic Fort Cumberland, erected in 1754. It was from this fort that General Braddock began his ill-fated expedition. After leaving Cumberland the travelers pass into picturesque Garrett County, noted for its scores of delightful lake and mountain resorts. Passing towering Mount Savage and the cliffs of giant Negro Mountain the tour reaches Keyzers Ridge. Here a left turn into the state highway leads south through Thayersville to Oakland.

Nearby are picturesque Mountain Lake Park and Deer Park. Hunting, fishing and all manner of outdoor sports abound in this section and here too will be found excellent state camping sites. Among the many attractive side trips that lead from here is an exceptional trip to the Swallows Falls section on the Youghicheny River, where are located four state forest parks having a total of 30,000 acres. The homeward journey can be made over the same highways used on the outbound trip.

Work Includes Supervision of Criminals, Care of Mental Cases

DISTRIBUTES SUBSIDIES

State Welfare Commission of Nine Determines All Policies

(Note: This is the twelfth of a series of "Know Your State Government" articles written for the Courier by International News Service.)

HARRISBURG, June 1.—(INS)—The Department of Welfare is the social office of the State government, charged with caring for those persons who must be segregated from society and with working to prevent wilful or involuntary transgression against society.

The department's work includes supervision of criminals and caring for mentally deficient persons either directly in State-owned institutions or indirectly in non-State-owned hospitals. It distributes state subsidies of more than $16,000,000 every biennium for a variety of social work and exercises supervision over the expenditure of the money.

This work is administered through four bureaus: community work, corrections, mental health and institutional management, the last named having charge of operating all state-owned institutions under the department's jurisdiction. A state welfare commission of nine persons appointed by the Governor and headed by the secretary of welfare, a cabinet officer, as chairman, determines all policies.

The bureau of community work coordinates administration of mothers' assistance funds and blind pensions, licensing of hospital and nursing homes, and supervising of all public and private child-caring institutions and state-aided homes for the aged.

The mothers' assistance boards, which distribute matched funds from state and county to women with dependent children, recently have added to their duties the distribution of blind pensions. Next December, old age assistance funds will be distributed by these boards, which are named by the Governor.

Mothers' assistance by state and county amounts to more than $5,000,000 a biennium; blind pensions to more than $2,500,000 and old age assistance to approximately $5,000,000. Some 27,000 children in 8,000 families and about 4,000 indigent blind are helped by these subsidies.

Through the bureau of corrections, the department supervises every prison, jail or lockup in the Commonwealth. All prison labor in eastern and western penitentiaries and state correctional institutions is directed by the bureau. Prison made goods valued at more than $1,000,000 annually are sold to the state or any of its subdivisions, to any state-aided institution or to the federal or other state.

ANOTHER ARREST MADE FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

Frank Bryan, Bristol R. D. 1, Held in $500 Bail for Court Trial

SMASHED ANOTHER CAR

Another arrest in this area for drunken driving was made Wednesday night and Frank Bryan, Bristol R. D. No. 1 was held in $500 bail for court on the drunken driving charge and fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving without a license.

Bryan, according to the charge, ran into the car of William Harding, 965 Garden street, Bristol. The accident occurred on the Durham Road at about 10.30 Wednesday night.

Bryan was arrested by Corporal Evans, State Motor Patrol, and was given a hearing before Justice of Peace James Guy in the Municipal Building here, last night. It was stated that at the time of Bryan's arrest he was examined by a physician and pronounced under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Harding's car was damaged to the extent of about $125. Harding sustained a slight injury.

Drunken driving appears to be on the increase in this area and police and motor patrolmen are waging a vigorous war to stop it.

As chief of the fire company during the past two years he devoted a great deal of time trying to detect the fire bugs responsible for the series of fires about Newtown. In addition he served as health officer and overseer of the poor.

SOUNDS WARNING TO ALL WHO SWIM

Over-Confidence and Over-Exertion Are Two Worst Enemies

MUST USE CAUTION

With outdoor swimming and bathing attracting young America, the Pennsylvania Department of Health today called attention to certain necessary precautions that should be observed. Already swimming fatalities are beginning. It is only by observing simple rules of caution that Pennsylvania's annual list of accidental drownings can be lessened, officials said. Over-confidence and over-exertion are two of the worst enemies of the swimmer, young or old.

While most accidental drownings come within the group up to age 20, nevertheless an astonishing number of so-called expert swimmers are victims of their own folly. Over-confidence in venturing into unknown depths, desire to demonstrate expert prowess, swimming too soon after heavy meals, and in the high heat of the day, are common causes of fatalities. Another imprudent act is long-distance swimming and diving, which may cause over-exertion of the heart and lungs, with sudden cramps, collapse and death.

In issuing this warning Dr. J. Bruce McCreary, deputy secretary of health, also pointed out the wisdom of swimming under competent supervision at large places. Isolated spots, he said, may be beautiful and restful, but often dangerous.

Thought also should be given to the hygienic conditions of the water. Investigation has revealed many ailments transmitted by polluted waters. Among these are inflammatory infections of the upper respiratory tract, disease of the eye, injury and infection of the ears, skin and intestinal infections.

It is realized that swimming is an ideal recreation, and under proper safeguards, with the observance of simple rules of caution, a great saving of lives can be effected for 1934, McCreary said.

JUDGE TELLS YOUTHS IN UPPER BUCKS CO. THEFTS MUST STOP

Too Much Stealing Going On in Ferndale and Kintnersville Sections

NEIGHBORS QUARREL

Morrisville Case Gave Court Lively Session On Tuesday

DOYLESTOWN, June 1.—Before Judge Calvin S. Boyer, in a session of court on Tuesday afternoon, a stepfather, Leidy Morris, Kintnersville blacksmith, told the court how he attempted to guide his stepson, Carl Fisher, who pleaded guilty to larceny and receiving stolen goods, from evil companions and following a criminal career.

The 21-year-old youth was arrested by Trooper Joseph R. Davey, of the State Police, following the theft of a bicycle from Henry Bean, another Kintnersville youth.

"This isn't the first time he has been in trouble. Once he took a tire from a car, the tire wasn't worth 50 cents, but it cost me $25 to straighten things out. It's just that he's a little 'deficient,' I think, and then again, he's smarter than a good many of them in other ways," added the nervous, wiry little man.

"He was always assembling bicycles. I used to ask him 'Where did you get all those parts?' but all he answered was 'up on the hill.'"

"I don't know what's the matter with you young fellows up in that neighborhood. Ordinarily we don't like to send a boy to jail for his first offense, but there is entirely too much stealing going on in the Ferndale and Kintnersville sections," Judge Boyer stated before imposing sentence.

"As long as this stealing keeps on in these sections we intend to send them all to jail. Some of you young men seem to have the wrong idea of how to treat other people's property, and how to live," said Judge Boyer.

Fisher was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution in addition to serving not less than one month nor more than two years in Bucks County Prison.

Following a two days' trial, a jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Floyd Flegler, of Tinticum, charged with assault with intent to ravish, and assault and battery.

John L. Dubois, attorney for the defendant, made a motion for a new trial.

Michael Carney, of Passaic, N. J., charged with assault and battery by automobile, was acquitted by a jury late Tuesday afternoon, but directed to pay 75% of the costs of prosecution while the remaining 25% were placed on the prosecutor.

The trial grew out of an automobile accident on the Morrisville bridge on February 14.

Mrs. Frances Brzowski, Morrisville, accused of beating Newton Swanson, 644 West Bridge street, Morrisville, a neighbor, with a broom, had to pay $33 and some odd cents.

Swanson, a young Swede, who was directed to pay one-half of the costs by a jury, also paid $33 and some odd cents.

Mrs. Brzowski, charged with assault and battery, went on trial before Judge Hiram H. Keller on Tuesday afternoon. She told the Court that Swanson, who was moving from 624 to 644 Bridge street, persisted in walking over her plot of grass after she had repeatedly warned him about it. Becoming incensed she ran for the family broom and beat him on the shoulder with the broom handle.

Swanson, the first witness to take the stand for the Commonwealth, testified that it was raining and in order to save time and steps he walked across her property. He denied shouting epithets at his enraged neighbor.

Benjamin Scott, Morrisville youth, testified he saw black and blue marks on the shoulder of the metal polisher. All in all it was quite a family mix-up, as well as a neighborhood quarrel, a brother-in-law and sister-in-law testified against one another.

Taking the entire trial rather humorously, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in favor of Mrs. Brzowski, the defendant, but divided the costs equally. Mrs. Brzowski lives at 632 West Bridge street.

When it came to settling up the costs, including the witnesses' fees, in the office of the Court of Quarter Sessions, the fur began to fly.

Fortunately, there were no brooms in sight, but louder and stronger became the verbal battle until Sheriff Horace E. Gwinner stepped in and took hold.

"One more word out of any of you, and there will be trouble," said Sheriff Gwinner as he parted the bitter and menacing members of either party.

Floyd Flegler, 23-year-old sandy-haired youth, convicted of assault with intent to ravish and assault and battery, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, pay a fine of $25 and serve not less than 9 months nor more than 5 years in the Bucks County Prison.

The defendant, a member of a Tinticum township family, was severely

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

The value of the so-called intelligence tests in measuring the intellectual quality or ability of a person has been the subject of much controversy and probably will continue to be. The methods, nevertheless, have come into quite wide use in the United States in recent years.

It is impossible, of course, to determine accurately what if any value they have. But this has not prevented the matter being studied by educators and others and conclusions being reached. By some the tests have been praised, by others condemned.

Among the latest pronouncements on the matter is that by the social studies commission of the American Historical association. The commission in its report not only condemns the intelligence tests as being valueless but declares that they can "do positive damage" to children on whom they are used. Among the "two major evils" arising from application of the new-type tests it lists "the placing of a fictitious rating on the student who is clever at learning the 'tricks of the trade,' and the encouragement of students to go to college or into life without ever having to put forth continuous and constructive effort in thinking and writing in the fields of history, political science, economics, sociology and human relations."

Equal objection is found to use of the tests in the field of teaching. "The use by administrative officers," says the report, "of the findings of objective tests in grading and promoting teachers encourages the latter to concentrate on the mechanical aspects of learning, thought and study. When they form the sole or major basis for judgment they are a menace to education."

The commission's conclusions probably represent the most authoritative expression on the value of intelligence tests of any made. The report, based on an exhaustive study of the subject, represents findings similar in some respects to others that have been reported. Whether it should be regarded as the last word on the subject is a question that may be left open for a while. It, nevertheless, should cause schools to go slowly in adopting the tests, because of the possible damage emphasized by the commission.

VACATION JOBS

The school boy or girl who has obtained a job for the summer in some store or factory, probably rejoices more than anything else over the pocket money the job brings in. It is a wonderful feeling to a youngster, who up to now has had to humbly march up to father every time cash was needed. The little pay envelope may be a small one, but those few dollars will be sweeter than any ever earned afterward.

But the dollars in the pay envelope are not the principal compensation. The best reward is the experience. If the young worker makes good in that store or factory, he or she has begun the long job of acquiring standing in the world.

The way the beginner behaves in that job may shape a business future for years. If the new clerk is willing to work, keeps the mind on the job, tries to learn, the first step upward is taken on that long path that leads to a successful life.

The Shock of Death

is never softened. Money will not compensate for those near and dear who are taken from us. To seek to lay the dead away respectfully is the aim of all people everywhere.

The burial expense may be cared for by life insurance. It is odd to call it "life" insurance, when paid only at the death of the insured, but it is a nice thought if we think of the departure of the spirit as passing into everlasting "life."

Of all things, maintain your "life" insurance. Do not allow it to lapse. Disaster comes so often when you fail to have your policy in force, and then how distressing to think how you might have protected yourself.

And be sure you are amply protected to the full extent of your ability to pay premiums.

If you are not insured in our companies, send us a postal card stating your name, address and age, and request that we send one of our agents to you.

We try to serve you faithfully.

KELVINATOR
A PLACE FOR Everything

WHEN Kelvinator designed the new Food File, a tremendous forward step was taken in electric refrigeration. Think what it means to have a place where you can literally file away foods—dairy products by themselves, fresh vegetables and table greens in another compartment which preserves their tenderness and crispness, and finally, the Thrift Tray where left-overs may be kept, each in its separate covered dish.

But Kelvinator efficiency doesn't end there. In addition, there is ample shelf room for general storage purposes, the first of Kelvinator's famous "4 refrigerators in 1"—to which is added the World's Fastest Freezing Speed, the below freezing compartment where meats and fish can be kept indefinitely, and the fast freezing trays where large quantities of ice cubes or frozen salads and desserts may be made.

Don't you think you owe it to yourself to see this matchless refrigerator? The new models are on display.

4 Refrigerators in 1

Ask to see Kelvinator's "4 refrigerators in 1"—four distinct refrigeration services in the one refrigerator—and all fully automatic. No dials to set, nothing to forget.

ANGELO GOES ON SLUGGING SPREE; ST. ANN'S WINS

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE
Schedule for tonight
EDGELEY vs. INDEPENDENTS
(St. Ann's Field)

Tony Angelo, catcher for the St. Ann's A. A. team, went on a slugging spree last night on the Saints' field as he slammed out two home runs and a triple to aid the Purple and Gold take the measure of the Damp Wash A. A. 11-5.

Angelo drove in four of the Saints' runs and scored three himself. His triple in the first scored Manzo and Pico. In the fifth with Pico on second, he clubbed a homer to deep left center and again in the seventh his slam went into right center for a home run with Pico on base. In his second appearance at the plate, Angelo grounded out to short.

Angelo's work with the mace spoiled the night for Ted Roper, laundrymen's twirler. Roper was found for six runs in the first but then settled down and pitched shut-out ball for four innings until Angelo found the range of those home run blows. Roper was hit for fourteen safe blows.

"Mike" DeRisi was on the hit for the winners and received credit for the win although he got able assistance for "Charlie" Whyno. Whyno took hold of the reins in the fifth when it appeared that DeRisi was weakening. "Boop" Nicols was the only hitter, the Saints' hurlers had trouble getting out. Off DeRisi, Nicols had a triple and single while he solved one of Whyno's hooks for a single.

De Boskey Hits Four Times; Bristol Wins

Downing who scored the winning tally. Downing had singled, advanced to second on a bunt throw by Ennis and went to third on Heftman's single.

The winners outthrew the Hibernians, nine to seven. Ennis served them for the Hibs while Mulholland used Joe Kohler. Ennis allowed three passes while Kohler was waited out for two.

Both teams played ragged ball field ten errors being chalked up. The Bristol team was guilty of six while the Big Green had four.

Previous to DeBoskey's hit, the Hibernians had deadlocked the count in their part of the last inning when E. Roe walked, advanced on an error and scored on a fly to centerfield.

HULMEVILLE BLANKS PARKLAND; SCORE, 2-0

HULMEVILLE, June 1.—"Ike" Watson and "Tony" Algue hooked up in an old-fashioned hurling duel here last night as Hulmeville A. A. scored another shut-out victory, blanking Parkland A. A. 2-0.

Watson allowed the losers but three hits while the Hulmeville club made but four off the delivery of Algue. The only trouble with Algue was that two of the hits he allowed were for extra bases and these led to the scoring of the winners' tallies.

In the fourth, Howard Black sent an Algue pitch into deep left for a triple and scored a moment later on an infield out. In the fifth, Benny Praul doubled and scored on "Shorty" Bilger's single.

Both teams played bang-up ball afield, only one error being marked up and that was charged to Hemp, Hulmeville's back-stopper.

Hulmeville is still leading the league with seven wins and two defeats.

The bureau also stimulates community programs for crime prevention and keeps statistics relating to crime in an effort to find and eliminate the causes.

Fifty-two state, county and private institutions for all types of mental patients are under the jurisdiction of the bureau of mental health. More than 27,000 patients are cared for in these hospitals, including 13,000 in eight state-owned institutions at a cost to the state of $300 each annually.

Like the bureau of corrections, this bureau also works toward elimination of mental diseases. It promotes establishment of clinics where mental diseases may be treated and cured.

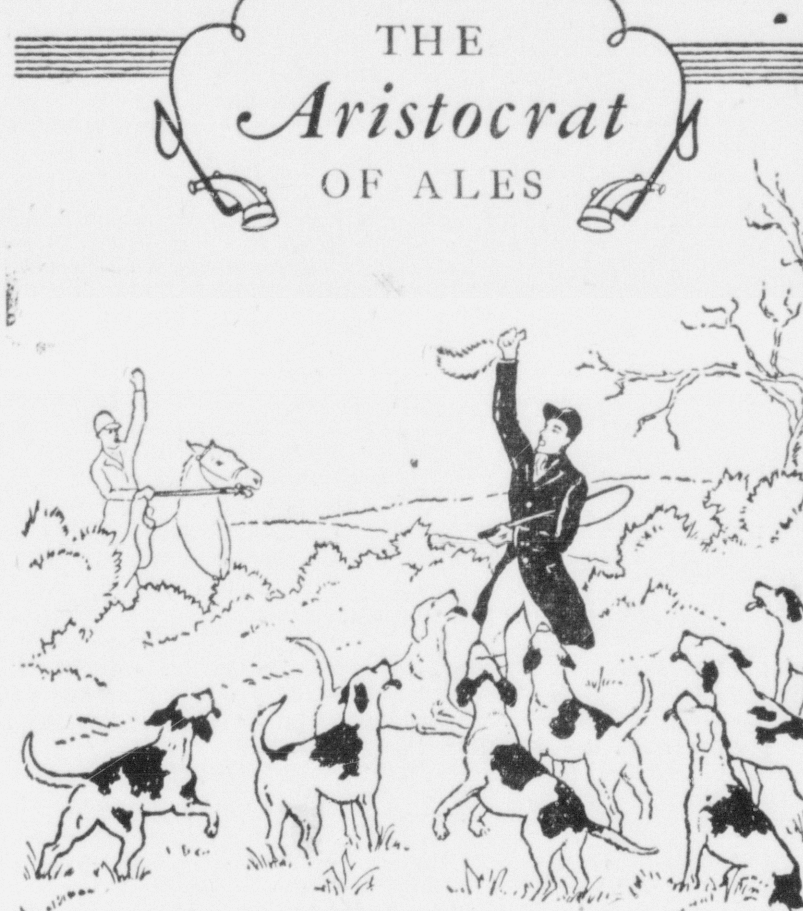

All of the state-owned institutions in the department are headed by boards of trustees of nine members named by the Governor to develop policies of operation. The secretary of welfare is an ex-officio member of each board.
